

Recommendation letter for Ms. Birba Delwende Eliane

To whom it may concern,

It gives me great satisfaction to recommend Ms. Eliane Delwende BIRBA to your prestigious Graduate School. I am a chairman and founder of a youth led organization call CONSEQUENTIAM “ One thousand and one ideas for Africa ” and came to know Ms. Birba back in 2013 in Taiwan. She was then first year college student in a Computer Science department and I was a research fellow in the Computer Science department at national Tsing Hua University, in the same town as Ms. Birba’s University.

The very first thing you will notice about Ms. Birba is her interest and curiosity in learning. She is highly charismatic and has some terrific fast learning skills to allow her to quickly master what she learns.

One of her great contributions through CONSEQUENTIAM was a project on a <Solar “to” cooker> presented at CONSEQUENTIAM Innovation Forum (CIF). Her project is about designing an electronic- solar powered cooker which targets to reduce the impact of cooking on the environment and to reduce the cooking time which is one of the most time investment that keeps girls out of school in Africa. This year, her project won the audience vote which is a testimony of the social effectiveness of her project. More importantly, she thinks critically, reasons well, and deliver her thoughts in a clear and concise manner.

She is outstanding and high demanding on herself. Examples are overwhelming to show that. For instance, she is the only participant to submit a contribution in CIF for the 3 years. She therefore attracts admiration and remains a source of motivation for other students and African diaspora here in Taiwan. She never stops dreaming and putting in practice what she wants. I believe that this program is about bringing up the best of future real world solution makers and I am confident Ms. Birba is qualified to have the opportunity to join this community of Graduate Students.

With these skills and sound experiences, I am confident that she will enjoy the challenge of being a great student, while personally contributing to the reputation of your Master student in machine learning. Therefore, I strongly recommend her application.

Thank you for taking the time to consider her application. I remain at your disposal, should you need further information about Ms. Birba.
